

strong source

large Q , far

weak source

small Q , close

wind axis

sensor

distance $\uparrow$

dilutes

strength $\uparrow$

compensates

same reading at the sensor a weaker, closer source and a stronger, farther source give identical c combined with cross-wind mirroring, one reading cannot pin down x_s , y_s , or Q